

John Mellencamp In Montreal

With that image firmly planted in all your minds, Mellencamp hit the stage at 9pm on a stormy, wintry Montreal night. Tom Cochrane and Red Rider were the opening act. Cochrane was actually outstanding and even managed an encore. Many of the songs performed in the storyteller's one hour set were classic Canadiana songs that were perfect on a night like this one. He closed and rocked off the stage with "Life is a Highway" which capped off a solid set.

Then it was time for John Mellencamp.
