

Mellencamp's Evening Proves A Humble Success

Tom Cochrane built an affectionate welcome into a genuine standing ovation with an hour-long opening set sharing the older-wiser humility theme.

He'd taken the stage to a crowd that was colder than a windscreen. Then Big League was dedicated as "Guy Lafleur's song. I love Guy." Honest banter, and a run of hits that time has shifted from the front page - Untouchable One, No Regrets, Life Is A Highway - and Cochrane had the crowd up and moving, offering the big O, and even demanding a surprise encore.
